Re: AVT 6.1-006
Advanced Video Technologies LLC v. Research In Motion, Ltd., et al.
Civil Action No. 11-8908-CM

Dear Judge McMahon:

The undersigned counsel represent the plaintiff Advanced Video Technologies LLC ("AVT") in the above-referenced matter, which is a patent infringement suit. AVT and defendants Research In Motion, Ltd. and Research In Motion Corporation ("RIM") are currently preparing opening claim construction briefs for filing on July 20, 2012. AVT writes to request five (5) additional pages to the total number of pages allowed for the parties' respective opening and responsive Markman briefs. RIM does not oppose this request.

Your Honor's Individual Practices and Procedures limit the total number of pages for opening and responsive briefs to fifty (50) pages, i.e., twenty five (25) for each brief. AVT requests an additional five (5) pages resulting in a total of fifty-five (55) pages for both opening and responsive briefs for each party. AVT believes the additional pages will help in clarifying the dispute between the parties for the 11 disputed claim terms for which claim construction is sought. AVT proposes that the pages need not be divided evenly between opening and opposing briefs, as long as each party's grand total number of pages for both briefs does not exceed fifty-five (55).

The Honorable Colleen McMahon

AVT thanks Your Honor for her attention to this matter and endorsement of this request.

Respectfully submitted
